

Retro Vintage Bazaar Opens Their Virtual Doors

The Retro Vintage Bazaar announced today it is officially open for business through its new site at Retro-Vintage-Bazaar.com and will also offer a vast selection of ever changing items on the world-renowned artist community ETSY.

Some may ask why retro or vintage?

Unique, some items were custom made and others were made in small quantities. Good quality, designed to be used for years, most are well made with fine durable materials. The unusual older items are no longer manufactured or are now very expensive. Vintage items are a great value for money and generally selling for a cost far below a similar new product. Historical appreciation for previous generations and the skills of respected artisans as older products show attention to detail, some with hand finishing, unusual shapes, handmade quality. Stylish, vintage has been favored by creative personalities because it offers a wide range of imaginative styles and an opportunity to have something truly uncommon. A good investment, some buy to collect these high quality vintage items and are often sought after by many collectors worldwide.

About Retro-Vintage-Bazaar:

Retro-Vintage-Bazaar proprietor Andi Vogel strives to locate and provide the most in retro and vintage books, decor, art deco, linens, board games, glassware, house-wares, records, sheet music, paper ephemera, and whatnot. At her unique boutique you will enjoy vintage printed items, old black and white photographs, retro-chic household items, dynamite decor and cool hippy stuff to decorate you and your pad. Sophisticated, Elegant, Provocative - this is up-cycling at its finest.

See for yourself visit <http://retro-vintage-bazaar.com/> or RetroVintageBazaar.etsy.com